

The background of the entire image is a stylized, wavy American flag. The stars and stripes are rendered in a soft, painterly style with a muted color palette of light blue, white, and pale red. The flag appears to be waving gently, creating a sense of movement and depth.

The America's 9/11 Foundation ride made its way to the Flight 93 National Memorial in Stonycreek Township Thursday for the 15th and final year. Hundreds of bikes and bikers could be seen at the memorial all day. Today the group will make its way to the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., before heading to the site of the World Trade Center in New York City on Saturday. The stops were the three locations of the terrorist attacks on Sept. 11, 2001. The ride is ending because of problems obtaining permits in other states, according to organizers.
