

CBDAIF—Issues from Systems Integrators

- We need to continue the discussion on the impacts of the changes in DoD 5000.02 acquisition policy.
 - shifting of early development efforts and more risk to industry has an impact on the ability to compete and creates many challenges for the industry
 - MG Reeves discussed some of these at the NBCIG meeting in December. We need to continue those important discussions
 - help ensure that the acquisition strategy continues to provide the best available technologies to the warfighter.
 - One key question, right now JSTO has difficulty getting to “one technology”, how will the CB community comply with the two technologies at MS B rule. What is the impact of this on systems of systems concepts.
