The Honorable Malcolm Ross O’Neill became the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Acquisition, Logistics and Technology [ASA(ALT)] on March 4, 2010, following nomination for the position by President Barack Obama and confirmation by the United States Senate. As the ASA(ALT), Dr. O’Neill serves as the Army Acquisition Executive, the Senior Procurement Executive, the Science Advisor to the Secretary of the Army, and the Army’s Senior Research and Development official. He also has principal responsibility for all Department of the Army matters related to logistics.

Dr. O’Neill leads the execution of the Army’s acquisition function and the acquisition management system. His responsibilities include providing oversight for the life cycle management and sustainment of Army weapons systems and equipment from research and development through test and evaluation, acquisition, logistics, fielding, and disposition. Dr. O’Neill also oversees the Elimination of Chemical Weapons Program. In addition, he is responsible for appointing, managing, and evaluating program executive officers as well as managing the Army Acquisition Corps and the Army Acquisition Workforce.
