

CALL FOR DISPLAYS

We encourage commercial and government displays tailored specifically for a display forum. The objective of the displays is to provide a technical forum for exchanging information, classified or unclassified, on survivability enhancements, equipment, testing facilities, analysis tools, etc. as they apply to military and commercial aircraft and UAS. Displays will be collocated in the classified space with the poster papers.

While poster papers traditionally present details on specific project and technology accomplishments, commercial and government displays present general capabilities of an organization or system. Display space is available at no cost to participants, provided the designated point of contact is a registered (paid) symposium attendee. Space will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis. A separate display board and table will be provided to each participating organization. The display area will be open during breaks and lunch periods and will only be open to symposium attendees.

Display Space Form

All information on this form should be exactly as you wish it to appear in the printed program. Please include Mr., Ms., Dr. or military rank.
