

Why Join NDIA?

Are you a National Security Professional?

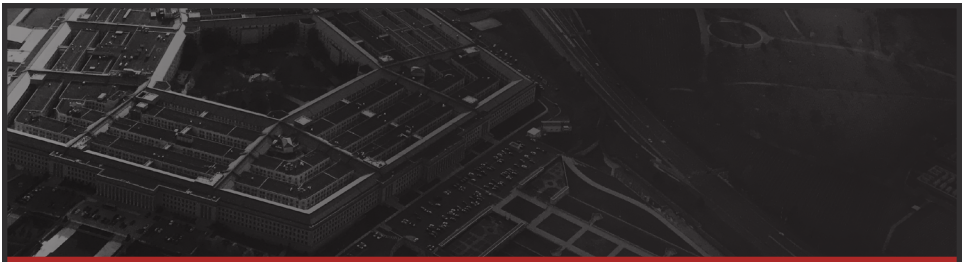

Do you work in Industry, Government, or Academia?

Do you want to stay ahead of Contracts, CMMC, CRs?

Do you need a trusted partner for issues that affect your organization?

Join the National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA) and be part of an organization dedicated to supporting the defense industrial base and advancing national security.

Where Government Requirements and Industry Solutions Meet

By joining NDIA, you gain unparalleled access to a wealth of resources, including cutting-edge research, strategic policy advocacy, and networking opportunities with industry leaders and national security professionals.

NDIA members benefit from exclusive events such as conferences and exhibitions, where they can showcase their products, services, and capabilities, and engage directly with decision-makers and influencers in the defense sector. Our robust strategy and policy efforts affect the shape of legislation, regulations, and policies critical to the future of the defense industrial base.

NDIA offers complimentary membership benefits to current federal government employees and members of the U.S. military (Active, Guard, and Reserve). You may join online at
